How FareShare South West works...

1.

We work with food suppliers of all shapes and sizes to rescue surplus food from across the industry.

2.

Instead of sending it to landfill, our food suppliers divert their good-quality, surplus food to our warehouses in Plymouth and Bristol.

4.

Our volunteer van crews make daily deliveries to our members across the South West, from Gloucestershire to Cornwall.

3.

Once safely stored in the warehouse, our volunteers sort and pack food into orders for our member organisations.

5.

Our members are frontline organisations tackling food poverty, such as food banks, schools and recovery houses.

6.

The food reaches the most vulnerable people in the community, ensuring they have access to a nutritious meal.
